CHAIRMAN'S MESSAGE

My year serving as chairman of the board for the Little Rock Regional Chamber has flown by, but great things were accomplished to grow our vibrant economy. This annual report will provide an overview of our economic development wins, networking opportunities, membership growth, and the many ways your chamber has served you, but I'd like to hit some highlights here.

The Little Rock Technology Park held its grand opening celebration in the spring. The Tech Park is a huge success story for our region and a hub for innovators and entrepreneurs. As of October, 38 companies had moved in, and it was 83 percent leased. Phase 1 came in $2,500,000 under budget and Phase 2 is in the early planning stage.

Did you know Latinos make up the fastest growing demographic group in our state? The chamber wants to serve this growing population, and major strides were taken toward meeting the needs of Hispanic business owners. The newly launched Hispanic Business Committee seeks to bridge the gap between Spanish- and English-speaking communities in our region.

When it comes to workforce education, we're thrilled that the North Little Rock School District has experienced such success with their Center for Excellence, which opened in August with 400 students enrolled, and offers career strands of medical professions, engineering, computer science, advanced manufacturing, and transportation distribution and logistics. The Little Rock School District has also launched its Excel Careers for Advanced Professional Studies, which offers classes in health professions, technology solutions, teacher preparation, and construction trades. Starting at the high school level to prepare young people for the workforce will pay big dividends for our region.

These are just a few of this year's accomplishments that are close to my heart, but, with your help, we've filled these pages with success stories. Thank you for a wonderful year!

METROCK NOW

The Little Rock region, made up of vibrant corridors, is coming together to form a special place to live, work, and play. Inter-city highways, where miles equal minutes, connect unique communities offering dynamic work/life opportunities. It is our role to market these assets together in a cohesive manner.

To sustainably grow our regional economy, we must continue to focus on assisting our existing companies with issues restricting their growth, while marketing our regional assets to new industries searching for a site. Today, more than ever before, quality of place is defined by infrastructure, human capital, and vibrancy. All three have to be nurtured to retain and attract people, jobs, and new investment. With your help, we can empower our region to compete and win. Together, we are building MetRock Now.

LOVE, LITTLE ROCK CAMPAIGN The chamber, with the help of Stone Ward and Aristotle, used the Amazon HQ2 deadline as a platform to launch the widely-acclaimed Love, Little Rock campaign. A break up letter written to Amazon in a full-page ad in the Washington Post, a new lovelittlerock.com website, a social media blitz, and a plane flying an “It’s not you; it’s us” banner over the Amazon headquarters in Seattle had a publicity value of $2.2 million and a potential audience of 1.5 billion, according to Cision, a company specializing in assessing the effectiveness of advertising and marketing.

LITTLE ROCK TECHNOLOGY PARK The Little Rock Technology Park, in conjunction with the Little Rock Regional Chamber, held an event on October 11 celebrating recent tenant successes at the park. Opening in March of 2017, the LR Tech Park counts 38 companies among its current tenant base. The turnkey space earmarked for small or startup technology-based companies is now 83% leased. In addition, Phase 1 construction of the tech park came in at $2.5 million under budget. Plans for Phase 2 are already underway.

LITTLE ROCK PORT AUTHORITY CONTINUES REAL ESTATE GROWTH In 2017, the Little Rock Port Authority acquired 421 acres, bringing the total number of acreage purchased to 578 since 2016. The authority will continue to buy land in 2018 for potential industrial tenants and already has an additional 75 acres under contract. In addition to the land acquisitions, the port authority will be building a new dock at their slackwater harbor, which will bring the total number of docks at the port to three. The Little Rock Port has over 40 businesses that employ over 3,500 people.

SOUTHWEST LITTLE ROCK BUSINESSES PARTNER FOR IMPROVEMENT In early 2017, a group of businesses in southwest Little Rock began meeting to identify ways to give back and improve the community in which they are located. After several meetings, they formed the Southwest Little Rock Alliance (SWLRA), operating as a committee of the Little Rock Regional Chamber. The alliance consists of businesses and nonprofits who are committed to increasing the quality of life for citizens living and working in the southwest Little Rock area.

The SWLRA commissioned a report by the Arkansas Economic Development Institute to determine what improvements residents and key stakeholders believe are needed in the community. The report was presented to the SWLRA in December 2017. The Alliance is currently analyzing the report and looking at ways the group can alleviate some of the issues and help with the opportunities recommended within the report. Members of the alliance include Electric Cooperatives of Arkansas, Goodwill Industries of Arkansas, Arkansas Food Bank, First Security Bank, Outlets of Little Rock, Arkansas Children’s Southwest Little Rock Community Clinic, and J.A Riggs Tractor Company.

WORKFORCE DEVELOPMENT

NLRSD CENTER OF EXCELLENCE North Little Rock School District's Center of Excellence opened in August with 400 students enrolled in the career strands of medical professions, engineering, computer science, advanced manufacturing, and transportation, distribution, and logistics.

LRSD EXCEL CAREERS FOR ADVANCED PROFESSIONAL STUDIES The Little Rock School District launched its Excel Careers for Advanced Professional Studies program with 65 high school students enrolled in the career strands of construction technology, medical sciences, education, and technology solutions.

LITTLE ROCK JOINS NETWORK FOR SOUTHERN ECONOMIC MOBILITY Little Rock has been accepted into the second cohort of the Network for Southern Economic Mobility (NSEM). NSEM is a group of southern communities committed to increasing upward economic mobility for low income youth and young adults. Through on-site coaching, expert programmatic technical assistance, and facilitated peer-learning, the network is designed to help communities deepen, accelerate, and align strategic investments for systemic change that position these youth and young adults for economic success.

MANUFACTURING DAY 2017 In celebration of Manufacturing Day 2017, the Little Rock Regional Chamber, UA-Pulaski Technical College, and the City of Maumelle hosted a manufacturing exhibition fair, presented by Entergy, on October 6. Eighteen exhibitors provided interactive exhibits to more than 1,100 local middle school and high school students as part of an effort to change students' perceptions about today's manufacturing environment and draw attention to the outstanding opportunities that a career in manufacturing can provide.

A photograph of the Arkansas State Capitol dome in Little Rock, Arkansas, taken from a low angle. The dome is illuminated by the warm, golden light of a setting or rising sun, which is visible as a bright orb behind the structure. The sky is a mix of orange and yellow. The building's classical architecture, including columns and a pediment, is visible in the foreground and midground.

ADVOCACY

2017 LEGISLATIVE SESSION

During the 2017 legislative session of the Arkansas General Assembly, your chamber staff was busy at the capitol tracking legislation that could impact economic development, public education, and public safety. Two noteworthy issues we tackled are as follows:

Although Arkansas voters overwhelmingly passed the “Issue 3” economic development amendment to the Arkansas Constitution in November of 2016, our work was not finished. Chamber staff worked with our legal team, the State Chamber, and local chamber representatives to craft the enabling legislation that was favorable to the economic development process, while protective of cities, and shepherd it through the legislative process to see it become law.

In addition, the chamber joined Governor Asa Hutchinson in opposing a so-called “bathroom bill” for Arkansas. We strongly believed that such a bill was unnecessary and would have a negative impact on the state’s economy, as seen in the hundreds of millions in lost business in North Carolina after a similar bill was signed into law there in 2016. The potential negative impact in Arkansas wouldn’t have been limited to just tourism and entertainment dollars. Passage of a bathroom bill would have also served as a deterrent for companies looking to locate or expand in Arkansas. With the Governor’s leadership and the help of the business community, attempts to pass such a bill were defeated in committee.

LEGISLATIVE RECEPTION

Presented by AT&T

During the 2017 legislative session, the chamber hosted a reception honoring the members of the 91st General Assembly and state constitutional officers.

MEETINGS WITH ARKANSAS CONGRESSIONAL DELEGATION

Washington, D.C.

Chamber leaders spent time in Washington meeting with the entire Arkansas congressional delegation about issues concerning the business community.

SMALL BUSINESS AND DIVERSITY

MINORITY ENTERPRISE DEVELOPMENT WEEK In September, the chamber celebrated its 35th annual Minority Enterprise Development Week, presented by The Design Group, in partnership with Philander Smith College. More than 400 people attended the week's events.

Minority Business Awards Luncheon

The week kicked off with the Minority Business Awards Luncheon with Keith Jackson as the featured speaker. The chamber awarded minority-owned businesses and business owners that excel in their field, as well as an organization dedicated to supporting them.

Networking Fiesta

The Hispanic Business Committee of the chamber presented a multicultural networking event, hosted by Imprentta Printing & Signs, with a live mariachi band and authentic Latin American food.

Think Big Little Rock Panel on Diversity and Inclusion

Think Big Little Rock, a community initiative of Create Little Rock, presented a panel discussion focusing on improving Little Rock's overall quality of place and making it a community in which young professionals will want to live and work.

Innovations and Libations

Create Little Rock and the Central Arkansas Urban League Young Professionals held a networking event highlighting the entrepreneurial spirit of African American businesses from the past at the Mosaic Templars Cultural Center.

SMALL BUSINESS AND DIVERSITY

HISPANIC BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT Two-thirds of those immigrating to Arkansas from outside the U.S. are Latino. These immigrants and their children represent the fastest growing demographic group in our state. The entrepreneurial spirit is clearly visible in Hispanic business owners, and the chamber is seeking new ways to serve them.

Hispanic Business Seminar

The chamber partnered with the Mexican Consulate to offer a seminar delivered entirely in Spanish, courtesy of Beacon Legal Group and FYI Taxes and Insurance. Topics included various business structures and formation, as well as tax and other financial issues related to operating businesses in Arkansas.

Hispanic Business Committee

Seeing the need to bridge the gap between the Spanish- and English-speaking business communities, the chamber created the Hispanic Business Committee. Members range from small to large businesses and include both nonprofit and for-profit businesses.

Chamber Signs MOU with Mexican Consulate

The chamber signed a memorandum of understanding with the Mexican Consulate in Little Rock. The MOU is designed to connect Hispanic entrepreneurs to the thriving startup ecosystem here and is the first of its kind for specifically assisting Hispanic entrepreneurs.

WOMEN'S BUSINESS LUNCHEON Each year in October, the chamber hosts one of its most popular events, the Women's Business Luncheon. In addition to fostering business development among its attendees, the luncheon focuses on the unique challenges and opportunities women face in today's business environment. A panel of speakers featured Alese Stroud, CEO of Corporate Insight Strategy Organization; Elizabeth Small, Instructor of Real Estate, Economics and Finance Department, UA Little Rock College of Business and past chair of the chamber; and Dr. Margaret Ellibee, President of UA-Pulaski Tech. Mandy Richardson, Publisher of Little Rock Soirée, moderated.

SMALL BUSINESS AND DIVERSITY

CHAMBER ON THE GO This year, the chamber launched Chamber On The Go which brings chamber services to small business members across the region. Since many small business owners are unable to attend chamber events, this program brings the chamber to them. Visits allow chamber staff to connect small business members to other local organizations and chamber resources to help their businesses thrive. They also provide an opportunity for feedback through surveys on the challenges and opportunities facing business owners and to promote their business through cross marketing on social media platforms. Since its launch in June, Chamber On The Go has visited more than 50 small businesses.

SMALL BUSINESS SUCCESS SERIES A large number of chamber members are small business owners, and the chamber wants to ensure their success by providing free training on topics our members have requested. In 2017, the chamber hosted training sessions covering two areas of interest:

Social Media Tips for Small Businesses

The chamber partnered with the Arkansas Small Business and Technology Development Center to present a Lunch & Learn seminar entitled How to Boost Your Sales Using Social Media. This training featured Marla Johnson, CEO of Aristotle, sharing her social media expertise. The session was targeted for either startups or established small businesses to learn how to develop sales and marketing strategies through strategic storytelling and listening on social media platforms like Facebook, Twitter, Instagram, YouTube, and Pinterest.

Google Online Marketing Seminars

The chamber hosted small business programming with Google on how members can better use search engine optimization for their businesses. The program was an all-day event broken down into three sessions: real estate, financial services, and lodging, attractions, and entertainment.

Capital, talent, and a cost-effective environment. A young company needs all three things to grow rapidly. I believe Little Rock is the only city in the U.S. that provides all three in perfect proportions. It truly is an unexplored goldmine for startups.

- Uday Akkaraju of BOND.AI

ENTREPRENEURSHIP AND INNOVATION

THE VENTURE CENTER The Venture Center takes a decidedly pro-business approach to entrepreneurship, connecting powerful ideas to viability, creating real jobs, and boosting the knowledge-based economy in Arkansas. A third of its members are women, minorities, and/or veterans. Through The VC's proven model of strategic acceleration, focused mentorship, and demonstrated viability, their door has quickly become the entry point from which legitimate, scalable businesses grow. In the first three years, member companies have:

CREATED	GENERATED	RAISED
445	$28M	$39M
JOBS	REVENUE	CAPITAL

VC FINTECH ACCELERATOR In May, 10 companies selected out of a pool of 295 applicants from around the world converged on Little Rock for the summer to participate in our second FinTech Accelerator. The FinTech Accelerator - empowered by FIS - is a rigorous, 12-week program designed to accelerate the growth of early-stage financial technology services startups. Over the course of the program, the cohort received invaluable advice and insights from senior executives at FIS, the Arkansas Bankers Association, national venture capitalists, the Little Rock Regional Chamber, and several community and regional banks. The program culminated with the FinTech Demo Day at the Clinton Presidential Center in July. Recruiting for the third cycle of this successful program is underway.

POPUK IN THE ROCK: POPUP ARGENTA

For the sixth annual PopUp in the Rock project, Create Little Rock and studioMAIN temporarily repurposed a parking lot on Main Street in North Little Rock's Argenta neighborhood, turning it into a pedestrian plaza for a 2-month period. Components included seating, shade structures, a community performance stage, and space for vendors. The PopUp team showcased these new amenities in the plaza during the monthly Argenta Art Walk nights in July, August, and September, and other organizations used the installations over the two months.

A joint project of Create Little Rock, studioMAIN, and the chamber, PopUp in the Rock is a temporary urban demonstration of what is possible. It exhibits important elements of the city, such as multiple transportation options and an active street edge, and provides activities that create community.

PEOPLE AND PROGRAMS

THINK BIG LITTLE ROCK

In August 2016, Create Little Rock launched its most ambitious program yet: Think Big Little Rock. Funded by Fifty for the Future and facilitated by the Arkansas Economic Development Institute at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock (AEDI), Phase 1 of Think Big was a year-long visioning process that brought together young professionals ages 25-40 with the goal of improving Little Rock's overall quality of place and making it a community in which young professionals will want to live and work.

Task forces were formed for each of six study areas to define problems and develop implementable strategy proposals. Those areas of study were Economic Development, Public Education, Public Safety & Governance, Transportation & Environment, Arts & Culture, and Diversity & Inclusion. Over a 12-month period, the task forces met in monthly meetings facilitated by the staff of the AEDI.

In September of 2017, after many meetings, presentations, town halls, and focus groups, the task forces refined their recommendations and compiled them into a report that outlines the problems or challenges of each designated subject study area, potential solutions, and potential funding sources for those solutions.

Think Big is now in Phase 2 – the implementation phase. To view the report, keep up with the progress, and volunteer, go to thinkbiglittlerock.com.

EVENTS

SERVE THE ROCK

The eighth annual Serve The Rock, presented by Chenal Pointe at the Divide and Landmark Apartments, showcased 57 nonprofits to a crowd of 440 attendees. Chamber members care about their region, and that was evident as they braved the chilly March weather to fill the concourse of Dickey-Stephens Park.

Launched in 2010 and powered by Create Little Rock, Serve The Rock plugs the region's up-and-coming young professionals into the community by engaging them in service work opportunities.

Serve The Rock gives the chamber's nonprofit members a chance to educate the public and elevate the awareness of their missions. Guests are treated to a one-stop opportunity to choose where they may best impact the Little Rock region through giving of their time and money.

TASTE OF THE ROCK

For more than a decade, Taste of The Rock has been one of the most anticipated post-work events in Little Rock. Presented in partnership by Choctaw Casino and Resort - Pocola, Little Rock Convention & Visitors Bureau, and Sprint, over 700 attendees once again flocked to the River Market Pavilions to sample the best food and drink the region has to offer. Called one of the only underpriced fundraisers, Taste of The Rock indulges attendees with selections from 30 chamber member restaurants and caterers. With leftover food being donated to Women & Children First, the real winner is the Little Rock region.

BUSINESS AFTER HOURS

Our world of electronic communications and social media feeds can leave us in a one-sided conversation. Real relationships and shared experiences matter in both business and community development. Chamber-facilitated handshakes provide an invaluable opportunity to share face time with business prospects.

Our wildly popular business after hours events promote our sponsors, showcase vendors, and meet the needs of the regional business community that wants high-level and high-value networking events. We sent more than 436,000 emails to members, engaged our 14,434 social media followers to help our online community connect offline, in person, and on site at a member business. The result was 4,135 members and friends growing new networks and deepening current relationships with potential business partners.

BOWLING FOR BUSINESS

Strikes and spares were the name of the game as chamber member teams battled for trophies and bragging rights for yet another year at Bowling for Business, presented by Mainstream Technologies, Inc. The set-'em-up-and-knock-'em-down networking tournament sold out quickly again this year. The 32 five-person teams all went home winners, but some were indeed awarded prizes, even if they weren't exactly worth showing off. Prizes went to teams and individuals for highest and lowest scores.

The first round is a team competition among the chamber's members and groups. The second round is all networking as bowlers mix and match to forge new business relationships while knocking down pins and knocking back – well, you get the idea. Oh, and don't forget the competition for best team shirts. This year's winner was Ring Container Technologies.

2017 ANNUAL MEETING

The Annual Meeting, presented by Entergy Arkansas, in partnership with Arkansas Blue Cross and Blue Shield, Little Rock Convention & Visitors Bureau, Mainstream Technologies, Inc., Stone Ward, TCPrint, UA Little Rock, and Univision Arkansas, celebrated the past year's accomplishments and announced the coming year's priorities. Throughout the lunch, we recognized new members, looked back on event highlights and ribbon cuttings, and thanked our volunteers and supporters. This year, more than 1,000 members and guests were inspired and educated by Greg Sankey, Southeastern Conference Commissioner. Sankey was interviewed by David Bazzel, former Razorback Football Captain, 2014 Arkansas Hall of Fame Inductee and local on-air personality for KABZ-FM, 103.7 The Buzz.
